TEXT FEATURE MEANING

What is Text Feature Meaning?

Headlines

The title of an article is called a headline.
A headline usually tells the main idea of what the article is about.

Headlines often grab your attention and make you want to read the article.

Example:
If there was an article written about a local fireman who saved a woman from a burning building, the headline of the article could read: "Local Fireman Rescues Woman from Burning House"

Captions

A caption

Example:
If there wa[...]ng to town, ther[...] that reads: "Th[...] July"

Graphics

A graphic is a picture, such as a map, photograph, or graph that can be included in an article to show information related to the article.

Example:
If there was an article written about the baby lion cubs born at the zoo, the article could include a picture of the new cubs to go along with the article.