

PROCESS WRITING

What Is Process Writing?

The stages that writers go through in order to complete a written piece are called the writing process, or process writing.

Examples:

- The stage at which writers plan their writing is called the prewriting stage.
- The stage at which writers get their ideas down on paper is called the drafting stage.
- The stage at which writers change and correct errors in their writing is called the revising stage.
- The final stage of the writing process, when writers share their final products, is called the publishing stage.

Try This!

1] Zoë took notes while interviewing a meteorologist from her local television station. At what

- a] revising
- b] publishing
- c] prewriting
- d] drafting

2] Samantha used a spell checker to find any spelling mistakes. At what

- a] revising
- b] publishing
- c] prewriting
- d] drafting

3] Miguel submitted his poem for publication in the school newspaper. At what writing stage is Miguel?

- a] revising
- b] publishing
- c] prewriting
- d] drafting

4] Maria writes an attention-grabbing lead paragraph for her story. At what writing stage is Maria?

- a] revising
- b] publishing
- c] prewriting
- d] drafting

Please login or register to download the printable version of this study guide.

www.newpathlearning.com